ENABLED HIM TO PLANT HIS CROP

Farmer Parker Could Not Even Drive a Team When He Began Taking Tanlac.

If it hadn't been for Tanlac I would not have been able to plant my crop this spring," said John C. Parker, a prosperous farmer living at Perrysburg, Ohio.

"I never expected to get rid of my troubles, for they had been pulling me down for ten years and had just about laid me out. My kidneys were all out of order and I had a continual sharp pain in the small of my back. I had rheumatism in my legs and arms and at times my muscles felt like they were tied in knots. I couldn't even drive my team, on account of this stiffness and pains in my arms and hands, and sometimes I was in such agony I could hardly move about. I lost my appetite, what I ate disagreed with me so that I hated to go to the table. I couldn't sleep to do any good and that pulled me down until I was nearly past going. "Tancal has simply made a new man of me. My kidneys don't bother me any more and that pain has left my back. The rheumatism has disappeared and I am as active as I ever was in my life. I can eat anything now without a sign of indigestion. I sleep like a log and get up of mornings feeling fine and ready for a big day's work."

Tanlac is sold in Paris at the People's Pharmacy. (adv)

PONZI'S BUBBLE IS BROKEN AT LAST.

BOSTON, Aug. 16.—Another get-rich-quick bubble burst Thursday. Federal authorities who have been auditing the books of Charles Ponzi and the Securities Exchange Company reported that the liabilities of the young financier were upward of $7,000,000. Ponzi had claimed that they would not exceed $500,000.

Ponzi is a prisoner at the office of the United States Marshal, having been unable early this afternoon to furnish bonds of $25,000. He was arrested, charged with using the mails to defraud, after he had surrendered soon after 1 o'clock. Subsequently a warrant for his arrest for larceny on three counts was issued in the Municipal Court on application of the Attorney General's office. The State authorities expected to obtain custody of Ponzi if he obtained bonds releasing him from the federal officers.

Bank Commissioner Allen Thursday declared that the capital of the Hanover Trust Company, a Ponzi depository, which was closed Wednesday, probably was wiped out. Ponzi had been a director up to Thursday. Further developments in the Ponzi high finance scheme were anxiously awaited in the financial district.

Ponzi issued the following statement after his arrest:

"I had an agreement with the District Attorney to go Friday and meet my liabilities with cash. With the closing of the Hanover Trust Company, and with other funds tied up, I find myself unable to do so. I felt it my duty to tell him and ask him to detain me."

After a wait for several hours for a bondman Ponzi obtained his release at 4:30 p. m. His bondman is Morris Rudnick, a real estate dealer, of 116 Homestead Street, Roxbury, who furnished the required surety of $25,000. On leaving the Federal Building Ponzi went to the Municipal Court to answer to the warrant charging larceny issued there.

At police headquarters Ponzi was photographed and his finger prints taken. Ponzi was held in bail of $10,000.

KENTUCKY AUGUST CROP REPORT.

Considerable increases in the estimates of production of corn, oats and potatoes in Kentucky, compared to July 1 estimates, a slight increase in the estimate of the wheat crop in Kentucky, and a slight decrease in the State's tobacco prospects, are the features of the monthly crop report issued at Louisville and Frankfort by the U. S. Bureau of Crop Estimates in co-operation with State Commissioner of Agriculture W. C. Hanna. Tobacco shows a slight reduction from July estimates because of rather poor condition in some sections, but as there is a big acreage in the burley belt which partly makes up for the reduced acreage in Western Kentucky and both sections can yet make a full normal yield if given favorable weather, the estimate of tobacco production is not greatly reduced. The United States total tobacco crop is considerably larger than last year.

Probable corn production in Kentucky is estimated at 96,941,000 bushels, compared to a July estimate of 86,170,000 and a crop last year of 82,500,000 bushels; wheat this month is estimated at 6,304,000 bushels, compared to a July 1 estimate of 86,170,000 and a crop last year of 82,500,000 bushels; wheat this month is estimated at 6,304,000 bushels, compared to a July 1 estimate of 6,275,000 bushels, and a production of 12,029,000 bushels last year; potatoes 6,355,000 bushels, compared to prospects July 1 for 5,971,000 bushels, and a crop last year of 5,040,000 bushels; and tobacco 431,640,000 pounds, compared to prospects July 1 estimate of 437,580,000 pounds, and last year's production of 456,500,000 pounds. This estimate on tobacco may be increased or decreased later, however, depending on favorable or unfavorable weather.

Rye production in Kentucky this season is estimated at 636,000 bushels, compared to 744,000 bushels last year; oats 11,615,000 bushels, compared to 9,900,000 bushels last year; barley 112,000 bushels, compared to 100,000 bushels last year. Fruit is a good crop in Kentucky as a whole, apples being estimated at 5,063,000 bushels and peaches 1,526,000 bushels. The condition of other crops in Kentucky is reported as follows: Alfalfa, 90 per cent; millet, 86 per cent; pasture, 88; cowpeas, 86; field beans, 90; tomatoes, 91; cabbage, 90; onions, 92; grapes, 82; watermelons, 87; muskmelons, 79; broom corn, 85; sorghum, 89; average yield of clover hay, 1.4 tons per acre.

SLACKING UP CITIES

Young people in country towns who have been getting restless with rural conditions should note the news that work in many of the cities is slacking up. In the clothing, shoe, and some other lines, there have been extensive shut downs. The high wages paid in those industries have been only temporary and can't last. The young folks with good homes in the country, who are learning the science of country life and food production every day should not give up their chance to advance in an industry that never shuts down.

CHINESE LAUNDRIES FEWER

Chinese laundries, which for years have been picturesque bits of foreign color in our American towns and cities, are growing fewer. The Chinese who first came to America were poor and ignorant and could not go into any business that required capital or a knowledge of the language and customs of the country. In order to be independent they resorted to the laundry business, which required little of either, and began to save money and learn the things that are necessary for pleasanter and more profitable occupations. There are fewer Chinese laundrymen to-day, but in Greater New York alone Chinese own and run more than two hundred restaurants.

BLOW ON THE JAW SAVES MAN'S LIFE.

Arthur Thomas, an employee of the city electric light plant, in Fremont, Neb., was saved from death by a blow on the jaw. He had taken hold of a plug which had become charged by a short circuit, and could not free himself. Clyde Newlon, a fellow worker, saw his predicament and swung his right fist to the point of Thomas' jaw, knocking him several feet away. Thomas' jaw was slightly fractured, but he says he has no complaint to make.

BOOM! ANOTHER HOME BREW GOES BLINK.

Residents of East Street, Winchendon, Mass., were startled by an explosion, which upon investigation was found to have been caused by the mistake of a home brewer in adding raisins and one yeast cake too much to his week-end concoction. Total damage was the destruction of one coal bin in which the keg was stored; the loss of the keg and lacerations of the feelings of the compounder.

After all the platform with the strongest appeal to Bryan is the Chautauqua platform.

Keep this Door Open Too—
Mr. Merchant!

Would you lock one of your doors for the price of a telephone?

When your telephone is busy (with either incoming or outgoing calls) an important business-getting door of your store is closed and locked. Maybe the customer who wants to telephone you an order will wait until that door is open again—but maybe he won't!

If your present equipment is often in use, you might make a profit on another telephone or "trunk"—or on even several more; a good many merchants do.

We can list them all under the same number, using any of your lines that is idle when you are called. It will pay you to make it easy for your customers to reach you on the telephone. Think it over.
